

FOCH AND FRENCH CABINET DECIDE ON NEW SEVERE MILITARY AND ECONOMIC MEASURES

HARVEY DENIES DISCORD IN VIEWS

WASHINGTON, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Secretary Hughes received today a copy of a radiogram sent by Ambassador Harvey to the North American Review, denying published reports that he and the secretary are NOT in accord on important questions of foreign policy. The message sent in response to a query was transmitted from the steamer on which Mr. Harvey is returning to his post.

Hughes Makes Denial
WASHINGTON, January 22.—(By the United Press)—Secretary of State Hughes authorized the United Press to deny fully rumors that he was in disagreement with President Harding or Ambassador Harvey regarding the European policy of the government and that he had any intention of resigning.

Want Jews Expelled

VIENNA, Jan. 22.—(By the A. P.)—Expulsion of the Jews was openly advocated at a demonstration held yesterday before the city hall. Speakers asserted that efforts to regenerate the German people would not succeed until the Jews were ousted from the dominant position in economic life, art, the stage and the press.

Expects Many Arrests, Indictments In Probe

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 22.—(By the A. P.)—Attorney General A. V. Coco who was called from Batou to the capital to confer with Gov. John M. Parker on the Morehouse situation, said last night he was leaving on his return to Batou to resume the open hearing into hoodlums and activities in Morehouse parish, that 25 to 35 arrests and 50 to 75 indictments would be the outcome of the preliminary investigation. After the conference, Mr. Coco announced he expected the hearings would end next Thursday. "The evidence is clear that the Ku Klux Klan had built up a super-gigantism and was running things their own way," the attorney general said. "The Klan was the government of Morehouse parish. That much has been established beyond doubt. The state has also established the identity of some of the members of the mob who murdered Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards. Against some of the hooded men there will be as high as six charges made. Whether the state would ask a grand jury to hear the testimony taken at the open hearing would be determined by developments Mr. Coco stated. It was stated in the event there was no grand jury indictment returned the state could proceed against those involved through affidavits for anything less than murder.

CONTROL OIL FIRES

SALINEVILLE, O., January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire, which destroyed 4,000 gallons of oil owned by the Freedom Oil Company, was brought under control here early today. Loss is estimated at $15,000.

A grand jury is probing the mysterious whipping by a masked mob at Goose Creek, Tex., of Mrs. R. H. Harrison (above) and R. A. Armand (right). The couple were kidnapped at night, taken to a lonely prairie and flogged so severely both were confined to their beds for days. No reason can be assigned for the flagging.

CAPITOL JOKE

By Charles R. Crist
U. S. Representative From Georgia, Third District

ANDY McDONALD was a bachelor, and well satisfied with his state. But one evening when there was a full moon and the spring breeze was soft and languorous, and the very leaves whispered of love, he took a very pretty girl for a walk down a country lane. And before he realized it he had proposed and been accepted. "Then he was silent as he suddenly came to a full realization of his precipitancy. But the girl seemed to expect something more. "Sandy," said she, "have ye nothing more to say to me?" "No," replied Sandy, "I'm thinkin' I have said more than enough already."

Five Perish In Flames

PITTSBURGH, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Five persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the Davies Hotel in Homestead, near here today. The property loss was $15,000. The dead are: Mrs. John Winnie, her twin sons, aged six years and her daughter, Catherine, 12 years, and Thomas W. Davies, proprietor of the hotel. Davies was awakened by the cracking of flames and so badly burned while trying to save others that he died in a hospital a few hours after the fire. John Winnie and his family were asleep on the third floor when the fire broke out. He was carried down a ladder by firemen, who, when they sought to save Mrs. Winnie and the children, were driven back by the flames. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Three More Executed

BELEFAST, Jan. 22.—(By the A. P.)—The Dundalk correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph reports that three men residents were executed today. Official confirmation was lacking. The despatch says that the men were captured three weeks ago after the destruction of a bridge.

Outlook Dangerous In Ruhr, Says British Press

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(By the A. P.)—The critical situation in the Ruhr is a subject of much anxious comment by the morning papers, which regard the outlook as so dangerous that it is imperative that some way of relieving the deadlock be found. Fear is expressed in some quarters that Great Britain be forced into some form of active intervention against her will. Some circles are also fearful that if France pursues the present line of her policy she will be obliged to increase her forces greatly in the occupied district with the result that Germany may follow with military action which would mean war.

Germany May Counter Future Claim Of France And Belgium By Counter Claim Of Her Own

BERLIN, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The picture of Germany countering future claims of France and Belgium with an indemnity bill of her own, for the Ruhr occupation is already being sketched in political circles here. In these quarters it is confidently believed that the Reich will not hesitate to model her own statement after the pattern afforded by her obligations to the allies. A long list of claims against France and Belgium by German nationals is expected, and to these will probably be added the nation's estimate of the damage to its sovereignty by the armed occupation. As precedents for such a course of action, Reichstag leaders have already turned to the Passau and Ingolstadt incidents when the reich was fined 1,000,000 marks because German civilians insulted members of the entente control commission.

A suggestion for an American protectorate over the Ruhr is meeting with considerable favor in Bourse circles, where it originated. Such a step, it is believed, would prevent the French from permanently controlling the Rhinish industrial area and would therefore be in the interests of American and British trade.

An immediate coal famine in unoccupied Germany is not generally feared here if the Ruhr coal mines can maintain the output of the last ten days. Only one-half of the Reich's support comes from that source and with British importations and stimulated production in other domestic fields a shortage does not seem immediate. It is admitted that considerable depends upon the ability

Earth Quake Shakes Northern California

WASHINGTON, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—An earthquake described as of "very severe" intensity, and lasting more than three hours, was recorded on the seismograph at the Georgetown University Observatory here early today. The first shocks occurred at 3:55 a. m., the disturbance reaching its greatest intensity at 4:09 and continuing until 5:20. Director Tondorf, of the observatory, estimated that the disturbance was 2,600 miles distant from Washington.

SACRAMENTO, CALIF., January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—An earthquake, which lasted for several seconds, shook Sacramento and towns in the Sacramento valley early today. At Sacramento, according to N. A. Taylor, meteorologist of the United States Weather Bureau, the tremor stopped the clock in the weather bureau office. A report received here said the shock damaged a gas tank at Willows, Calif. The quake was felt in Sacramento between 1:45 and 1:08 a. m.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., January 22.—(By the United Press)—An earthquake shock varying in intensity in localities shook Northern California shortly after one a. m. according to reports received by the local weather bureau. It was felt lightly in San Francisco at 1:07 a. m. It seemed to consist of three shocks, Red Bluff, Orland and Chico, Cal. all in the Sacramento Valley, reported feeling the tremor. At Orland apparently it was the heaviest, being described as of long duration. It was accompanied by the usual rumbling of the earth. No damage has been reported.

French Plan Provides For A Domestic Loan

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(By the A. P.)—The new French reparations plan, ready for submission to the reparations commission today, provides for a German domestic loan of three billion gold marks guaranteed by the Reich's leading industrialists. With the exception of 500,000,000 gold marks, which would be used in stabilizing the currency, the proceeds of the proposed loan would be paid on the allied reparations account. The guarantees demanded by France are practically the same as she now holds. Premier Poincare, Louis Barthou and the other French experts make their proposal contingent upon the withdrawal of all resistance to France's Ruhr policy or to allied action in other territories occupied under the Versailles treaty. In commenting upon the fact that the plan provides for no moratorium, French officials point out that a two year delay will be considered if Germany agrees to submit to the coercive measures permitted by the treaty. As the case now stands, it is said there is little use in offering a moratorium, if the German government refuses to recognize the treaty that imposes payments.

Will Try To Fly Around World

Alan J. Cobham, famous English aviator, is completing arrangements for an attempt to fly around the world, starting on March 24.

BAFFLING MYSTERY BEHIND MURDER

NEWPORT, R. I., January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—At a loss to establish a motive or to find trace of a third person in the house, police authorities here today were admittedly at sea in their efforts to account for the deaths yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Frazier, McLeish and the fire that almost wiped out all signs of the mystery of the little lodge which the victims occupied as caretakers of Harbor View. Mrs. Paul Fitzsimmons, of New York, formerly Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, owner of the estate, came here from New York with her son, Wm. H. Vanderbilt, immediately after she received word of the tragedy. The wounds on the head of the McLeishs—four on that of the man and a single crushing blow on the head of his wife—were still unexplained by any possible weapon in the place. The fire, but for the condition of the bodies would have been attributed to faulty electric wiring, it was said, no other likely cause being found. It started under the bed on which Mrs. McLeish's body was found partly charred. The body of her husband was discovered in a bath tub.

"No Strike This Year"

NEW YORK, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The joint sub-committee of bituminous coal operators and union miners today resumed their discussions of 1923 wage scales to become effective April 1. Before entering the conference, Phil H. Penna, Indiana operator, issued a statement in which he renewed assurances of his fellow operators that there would be no strike in the bituminous industry this year. John L. Lewis, president of the mine workers and other labor members of the sub-committee of seven, were equally optimistic.

Sun Yat Sen May Go Back

SHANGHAI, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Sun Yat Sen, ex-president of the Southern Republic, announced today that he would leave next Saturday for Canton, his former capital. Both foreign and Chinese interests have been urging him to go there to restore order. His adherents took the city from Peking nation alists last Wednesday.

Rector Expects To Be Tried For Heresy

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(By the A. P.)—The Rev. Percy S. Grant, rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of the Ascension expects to be tried for heresy. He declined today, however, to indicate when he would make formal reply to the ultimatum of Bishop Wm. T. Manning that he either recant pulpit utterances that "Jesus taught that he expected a trial for heresy" or resign. He said that his sermon yesterday in which he reiterated that Christ was human while on earth and was not possessed of miraculous powers, should not be construed as his reply to the bishop. "I will make my reply to the bishop formally in the manner in which he addresses me," Dr. Grant said. "Those things must be done deliberately and carefully." He indicated that he expected a trial for heresy by telling reporters who sought his copy of the sermon that he wanted to back as "in case this thing ever goes to trial, I will need all documents." Dr. Grant's stand was condemned in a number of sermons preached in other New York churches yesterday. Bishop Manning preached at New Haven to Yale students. His text was "Be thou faithful unto death."

Strike Of Germans In Ruhr Valley Spreads

PARIS, January 22.—(By the United Press)—Marshal Foch and the French cabinet today decided upon new measures "of a military and economic nature" to meet the strike of German miners and railroad workers in the Ruhr. At the same time the French commander at Essen released Herr Ahrens, state mine director, whose return was hailed tumultuously by striking miners. Troops were withdrawn from the vicinity of the state mines and from the Reichsbank at Essen. The French pledged themselves to maintain only a small watch at railroad stations, this concession causing German railroad workers at South Dortmund to return to work. These preliminary concessions were not considered indicative of the French attitude in general, however, and it is understood severe measures are planned.

RUSSIA PREPARED SHOULD BIG WAR START

MOSCOW, Jan. 22.—(By the A. P.)—Although Russia has reduced her active army to 600,000 men, she has not shut her eyes to possible military danger and it is understood that the government has taken a number of measures to create at the necessary moment a force able to repulse any attack, writes M. Steckloff, editor of Izvestia. He expresses the opinion that there are more war possibilities in the European situation today than in 1914. He revives the theory of the old quarrel between America and Japan and finds that the commercial rivalry of America and England and the growing differences between the latter country and France are full of war possibilities at a time when Moscow, the Balkans, and the Ruhr threaten to set off the powder magazines.

Troops Moved; Duesseldorf Branch Open

DUESSELDORF, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The Duesseldorf branch of the Reichsbank, the directorate of which refused to continue business last week while troops were on the premises, was reopened today. The guard in the Reichsbank branch at Essen, was lifted, but the bank failed to re-open.

OPENLY TALK SECESSION OF RHINELAND

LONDON, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Separatist party at Aix La Chapelle openly discusses secession of Rhineland provinces from the Reich.

TRAINS OPERATED BY FRENCH CREWS

DUESSELDORF, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The railroad trains in this region were running desultorily this morning, operated by French crews. The service was about ten per cent of the normal schedule.

PROVIDES FOR INTERIOR LOAN BY GERMANY

PARIS—Poincare's plan for German moratorium provides for interior loan by Germany of three billion marks, say reports.

PROPOSE AMERICAN PROTECTORATE

LONDON—Berlin asserts that Bourse circles propose American protectorate over Ruhr sector as compromise against French occupation.

STRIKES IN PROGRESS IN MINES

ESSEN, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Strikes, either partial or complete, were in progress today in all the Ruhr Valley mines, whose directors had been arrested by the French. The state mines resumed operations, the troops having been removed from them. Warned by Berlin that they would be imprisoned if they brought coal to the surface the miners added their contribution to the nation's policy of passive resistance by voting to put down their picks. Their railway comrades, already on strike in the Bochum-Dortmund district, laid plans for a representative meeting at Elberfeld today to decide whether they too should refuse to assist in transporting German coal to France. The Germans expected more arrests among the industrial leaders today.

GOVERNMENT TO HELP STRIKERS OF RUHR VALLEY

The average Ruhr miner appears to have food to keep his family for three days. His savings are small but it is reported that the German government will guarantee financial assistance to tide him over the present crisis. It was generally believed today that the French resources would be inadequate to maintain production in the Ruhr Valley if the region should be paralyzed by strikes.

Significant Troop Movement At Muenster

DUESSELDORF—A dispatch to Paris, Matin says is important and significant troops movements are reported at Muenster.

Industrial Leaders To Be Tried Wednesday

MAYENCE, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The trial by court martial of Fritz Thyssen and the other industrial leaders arrested in the Ruhr Valley, who were brought here last week, will be held in this city Wednesday. The French authorities announce that the trial will last only one day. (Continued on Page Nine)

No Clash At Examination

WASHINGTON, January 22.—Examination of Harry F. Sinclair by the senate oil investigation committee under the subpoena issued last week proceeded smoothly during the first hour today and it appeared that the expected clash between the witness and the committee would be averted.

THE GUMPS—PM THE KID THAT BUILT THE PYRAMID

Coast League President To Fight Majors

By NEA Service
SAN FRANCISCO, January 22.—Despite the calm now existing, all is not well between the majors and minors.

Leading the cause of the minor leagues is "Billy" McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League.

The minors can't see the draft as proposed by the majors. No league has profited more by the sale of players to the majors than the Coast League. So it is no wonder McCarthy can't see the draft idea.

New York paid $75,000 for O'Connell, Chicago coughed up $100,000 for Kamm and so on down the line. In the last two or three years the Coast League has profited to the extent of about $200,000 in the sale of players.

The draft price would be about $7,500 for a player, which is a lot different from $75,000 and $100,000. The majors, in their own game, have made it permissible to send out 15 players to the minors on option. This would make it possible to develop promising recruits without losing title to them.

President McCarthy says the Pacific Coast League will fight the latest proposal to a finish.

As a matter of fact, McCarthy is just about convinced that the Coast League is entitled to big league consideration.

A Good Selection
The "Fighting Irishman" will lead the Ironton High School Tigers for the remainder of the basketball season. No better leader could have been chosen than "Doc" Gallagher. He has been one of the bulwarks of the present machine and was a big cog in the great football team assembled by Coach Davies during the past season. Last season it was Capt. Gallagher of the St. Joseph's Selects, champions of the city, frontonian.

Fans Are Wondering Why Bickle Resigned

Relative to Eddie Bickle, star forward and captain of the Ironton hi school quintet quitting the team, the Sunday Irontonian had the following:

"Everyone interested in High School athletics is wondering why Eddie Bickle, star forward of the Tiger varsity fire resigned his post as Captain of the team. Bickle, we presume, had reasons for this action or he would not have taken such a step. Without doubt, Ed Bickle was the leading forward in the South-Eastern District. He was the main cog of the Tigers scoring machine. For the past several weeks the star forward had been suffering with a light attack of influenza, and his parents deemed it not wise for him to play. They advised him not to play no more this season.

"The future of the Tiger varsity quintet is uncertain. If Coach Davies is able to develop a man that will come near filling the gap, left vacant by Bickle, he will have a winning machine for the five games left on the Tiger schedule. No man of the present material is available for Bickle's forward position. If the important position left vacant by the star forward is filled, some outside material in the school will have to be drafted for the squad."

Prices Received For 1921 Pooled Tobacco Crop Is Announced By Association

With about ninety million pounds of the 1921 tobacco crop sold by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, announcement is made from Lexington, of the prices to be received by the growers for the crop of 1921. Net prices are given, so as to enable the growers to figure accurately what is coming to them with the least trouble and a full and complete statement of expenses will be sent with each check and made public at the same time.

To the prices to be paid the growers, of course, must be added the expense in order to arrive at the gross prices received for the 1921 crop. The average was not announced.

Checks for the final payment on the 1921 crop are being prepared as rapidly as Secretary and Treasurer H. Lee Earley, his entire office force and staff of seventy-seven extra calculators can prepare them.

The net prices per hundred pounds which each grower will receive for the 1921 crop by grades follow:

Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

That number 13 is one, which every nine out of ten persons is superstitious of and will avoid if it is possible. Miss Lewin, leading lady of the Jack Ball Stock Co., was one of the ten that was not bothered with the 13 until this past summer.

The stock company was presenting "The Woman in Room 13" during their Wheeling engagement and during that week things began happening to Miss Lewin. First some one broke into her room at the hotel, and stole some clothes, then she narrowly escaped death, when a weight used in the theater fell and crashed into a table in front of her. Last but not the least, the thought came to her she had number room 13 at 11th hotel and immediately she joined the ranks of superstitious ones on this number 13. It is needless to say that her room was changed that week and she now dreads 13.

"The Woman in Room 13" is a

Twenty-four Years Ago

These officers were installed by Portsmouth Lodge No. 416, Independent Order of Odd Fellows: Louis Moritz, noble grand; Albert Daehler, secretary; H. Kingman, treasurer. Theo. Doty, Schleicher Bros., F. R. Montavon, Theo. K. Funk, and W. H. Montgomery, composed a committee on pigeon display at the winter fair.

Tom Flammigan left for Cripple Creek, Colorado, to look after his interest in a mine there.

Much damage resulted when a young cyclone swept over this section, the heaviest loss being sustained at the Burgess Steel and Iron Works, at Yorktown, where a gas generator building was blown down and five of eighteen men inside the structure were slightly injured. Numerous buildings about the city were damaged by the storm.

Among the heroes who gave up their lives during the trying days that followed the battle of San Juan Hill, was Private Frank G. Allard, Sixth United States regulars. His body was brought back and given military burial at his old home at Sciotoville.

Leaves For Washington

TRONTON, Jan. 22—Judge E. E. Corn left for Washington, D. C., today, where he will represent the State of Ohio in the court hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission and also in the case involving the rate for road building material.

Game Is Halted By Gallipolis Coach

The Gallipolis girls who lost a game here Friday night dropped a 16 to 5 game to the Ironton girls Saturday night in Ironton. The game was played with girls' rules. The coach of the visiting five halted the game in the last quarter on the claim that her team was being "cheated" out of the game.

Young And Cameron Must Make Up Studies

COLUMBUS, Jan. 22—Eligibility taken during the mid-winter examinations at Ohio State university was not as severe as in some other years, according to information available. The only lack of prominence that have summer work starting them in the face of their desire to "carry on" in football equipment next fall are Frank "Tee" Young and Jack Cameron. They are in for a session with their textbooks during the hot months.

Young failed another subject in the examinations and now is something like 12 hours behind in his work. He will have to dig hard to be scholastically equipped to assume his position at left tackle when another fall campaign rolls around. Young was a star in 1921 and out of all of last season, due to scholastic difficulties.

Cameron is a quarterback prospect who would have gotten a real show in 1922 had he not developed injuries, when Noel Workman became ineligible.

Hoge Workman and the other cracks on the team, in the way of material, are said to have gotten through their tests in commendable fashion.

Says Indians Will Finish In First Division

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Jan. 22—"Where will the Indians finish?" This speaker was asked the other day. "Somewhere in the first division and I believe higher than in 1922," was his parting shot.

"We can stand another extra infielder, and the addition of a right hand batting outfielder will not weaken us," he continued. "The acquisition of Glenn Myatt gives us the best catching staff in either big league. Steve O'Neill is the equal of any receiver in the country and the possession of Luke Sewell and Myatt fortifies us in case of an accident to the old reliable Steve. Both are great young catchers. Both are fast men, while Myatt is a wonderful batter."

"While I have seen Lutzke play only one exhibition game, from what I have heard of his ability as a fielder and his improvement as a batsman, we are going to be strengthened at third base."

"From what I heard about Brower, we are going to have a three-cornered battle for first base, with Brower added as a competitor with Stuffy Melms and Louis Galuso."

"As for our pitchers, well, you never know what to predict about them until the season is on."

"We must follow," he declared.

"Follow and punish."

Setting a course for Hispaniola, since they judged that thither must Rivarol go to rent before attempting to cross to France, the Arabella and the Elizabeth ploughed briskly northward with a moderately favorable wind for two days and nights without ever catching a glimpse of their quarry. The wind, to which they were sailing very close, was westerly, and it bore to their ears

a booming sound.

"Guns," said Pitt, who stood with Blood upon the quarter-deck. Blood nodded, listening.

"Ten miles away, perhaps fifteen —somewhere off Port Royal, I should judge," Pitt added. Then he looked at the captain. "Does it concern us?" he added.

"Guns off Port Royal," that should argue, Colonel Bishop, at work. And against whom should he be in action but against friends of ours? I think it may concern us.

Did them put the helm over."

They held to their course, with all hands on deck, anxiously scanning the sea ahead. And presently an object loomed into view, which soon defined itself for a great ship on fire. As the Arabella with the Elizabeth following closely, raced nearer on their northwesterly tack, the outlines of the blazing vessel grew clearer. Presently her masts stood out sharp and black above the smoke and flames, and through his telescope Blood made out plainly the pennon of St. George fluttering from her mainmast.

"An English ship," he cried.

He scanned the seas for the con-querer in the battle in which this grim evidence was added to that of the sounds they had heard, and when at last, as they drew closer to the shadowy outlines of three tall ships,

some three or four miles away, standing in toward Port Royal, the first and natural assumption was that these ships must belong to the Jamaica fleet. But Pitt, who through the telescope was examining the receding squadron, observed things apparently only to the eye of the trained mariner, and made the incredible announcement that the largest of these three vessels was Rivarol's Victrolense.

CHAPTER XXIX

The Service of King William

ONE of the boats bumped alongside the Arabella, and up the entrance ladder came first a slight, spruce little gentleman in a coat of mulberry satin laced with gold, whose wizened, yellow, rather peevish face was framed in a heavy black perwig.

As the little man stepped from the ladder into the waist, whether Captain Blood had gone to receive him, his sharp, ferrety dark eyes swept the uncounted ranks of the assembled crew of the Arabella.

"And where the devil may I be now?" he demanded irritably. "Are you English, or what the devil are you?"

"Myself, I have the honor to be

Irish, sir. My name is Blood—Captain Peter Blood, and this is my ship the Arabella, sir, very much at your service."

"Blood?" shrieked the little man.

"O Blood! A pirate!" He swung to the Colossus who followed him—"A damned pirate, van der Kuylen.

Read my vitals, but we've come from Seville to Charybdis."

"So," said the other gutturally, and again, "So?" Then the humor of it took him, and he yielded to it.

"Damme! What's to laugh at, you purpoise?" spluttered mulberry-coat.

"A fine tale this'll make at home!

Admiral van der Kuylen first loses his feet in the night, then has his flagship fired under him by a French squadron, and ends all by being captured by a pirate."

"There's a misapprehension, if I may make so bold as to point it out," put in Blood quietly. "You are not captured, gentlemen; you are rescued. When you realize it, perhaps it will occur to you to acknowledge the hospitality I am offering you. It may be poor, but it is the best at my disposal."

The fierce little gentleman stared at him. "Damme! Do you permit yourself to be ironical?" he disapproved him, and possibly with a view of correcting any such ten-tency, proceeded to introduce himself. "I am Lord Willoughby. King

William's governor-general of the West Indies, and this is Admiral van der Kuylen, commander of his majesty's West Indies fleet, at present mislaid somewhere in this damned Caribbean Sea."

"King William?" quoth Blood, and he was conscious that Pitt and Dyke, who were behind him, now came edging nearer, sharing his own wonder. "And who may be

King William, and of what may he be king?"

"What's that?" In a wonder greater than his own, Lord Willoughby stared back at him. At last: "I am alluding to his majesty,

King William III—William of Orange—who, with Queen Mary, has been ruling England for two months or more.

There was a moment's silence until Blood realized what he was being told.

"Dye mean, sir, that they've pounded themselves at home, and kicked out that scoundrel James and his gang of ruffians."

His lordship's smiles brought lines like gashes into his leathery cheeks.

"Silence! Hadn't you heard? Where the devil have you been at all?"

"Out of touch with the world for the last three months," said Blood.

"Silence! You must have been

And in that three months the world has undergone some changes."

Briefly he added an account of them.

King James was fled to France, and living under the protection of King

Louis, wherefore, and for other reasons, England had joined the league against her, and was now at war with France. That was how it happened that the Dutch Admiral's flagship had been attacked by M. de Rivarol's fleet that morning, from which it clearly followed that in his voyage from Cartagena, the Frenchman must have spoken some ship that gave him the news.

Pitt came to report that the work of rescue was at an end, and the men picked up—some 45 in all—safe aboard the buccaneer ships.

He asked for orders. Blood arose.

"I am negligent of your lordship's concerns in my consideration of my own. You'll be wishing me to land you at Port Royal."

"At Port Royal?" Wrathfully and at length he informed Blood that they had put into Port Royal last evening to find its Deputy-Governor absent. "He had gone on some wild-goose chase to Tortuga after buccaneers, taking the whole of the fleet with him."

"An English ship!" HE CRIED.

Blood stared in surprise. A moment's time yielded to laughter.

"He went, I suppose, before news reached him of the change of Government at home, and the war with France?"

"He did not," snapped Willoughby.

"He was informed of both, and also of my coming before he set out."

"Oh, impossible!"

"So I should have thought. But I have the information from a Major

Mallard whom I found in Port

Royal, apparently governing in this fool's absence."

"But is he mad, to leave his post at such a time?" Blood was amazed.

"Taking the whole fleet with him, pray remember, and leaving the place open to French attack."

The lingering smile faded from Blood's face. "Is Rivarol aware of this?" he cried sharply.

It was the Dutch admiral who answered him. "Would he go dare if he were not? M. de Rivarol he takes some of our men prisoners. Perhaps dey tell him. Perhaps he make dem tell. It is a great opportunity."

Captain Blood proceeded to give orders.

"Set a course for Port Royal,

Jerome, and make all speed. We'll be level yet with M. de Rivarol, and wipe off some other scores at the same time."

Both Lord Willoughby and the admiral were on their feet.

"But you are not equal to it, damme!" cried his lordship. "Any one of the Frenchman's three ships is a match for both yours, my man."

"In guns,—aye," said Blood, and he smiled. "But there's more than guns that matter in these affairs. If your lordship would like to see an action fought at sea as an action should be fought, this is your opportunity."

Both stared at him. "But the odds," his lordship insisted.

"It is impossible," said Van der Kuylen, shaking his great head.

"Seamanship is imponderable. Bud-gins is guns."

"If I can't defeat him I can sink him."

CHAPTER XXX

The Last Fight of The Arabella

It was the afternoon of that same day, and the two buccaneer ships rocked gently with idly flapping sails under the lee of the long spit of land forming the great natural harbor of Port Royal. It was two hours and more since they had brought up thereabouts, having crept thither unmolested by the city and by M. de Rivarol's ships, and all the time the air had been a quiver block him in until Bishop gets back from his wild-goose chase with his turns up."

"And what good will that be,

pray," demanded Willoughby.

"I'll be after telling you, Rivarol is a fool to take this chance, considering what he's got aboard. He carried in his hold the treasure plundered from Cartagena, amounting to forty million livres." That jumped at the mention of that colossal sum. "He has gone into Port Royal with it. Whether he defeats me or not, he doesn't come out of Port Royal with it again, and find its way into King William's coffers, after, say, one-fifth share shall have been paid to my buccaneers. Is that agreed, Lord Willoughby?"

His lordship stood up, and shaking back the cloud of lace from his wrist, held out a delicate white hand.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

If you think you can manage him all right and live happily with him, I think you would be as safe in marrying him as any other man. You are taking a chance no matter who you marry.

DEAR DOLLY—Is there a state school inspector of Ohio? If so, please print his name and address.

BONNIE
What kind of an inspector do you mean? If you have reference to school buildings, they are taken care of by the deputy inspector of workshops and factories. They make their rounds of all the buildings at certain intervals. There is also an inspector of high schools who visits these institutions of learning ever so often to see that they are kept up to the standard in equipment, studies, building, etc.

MISS DOLLY WISE—Am coming to you with a question that was brought up in conversation tonight. Why was the Emperor of Germany allowed to go free after causing the death of so many people. Where any man kills another in this country he is punished severely. Would you answer this question or do you think it wise to print anything like that in the Times. It's not till Jack this question cannot be answered.

INQUISITIVE
Being banished from his throne, and his own country, and forced to live virtually a prisoner in Holland, is more of a punishment to the Kaiser, than the taking of his life, which is practically at an end anyway. To live in disgrace, and be ostracised from royal society, and the luxuries of the royal palace, is a greater punishment than you imagine. In addition to these things, he surely must suffer for being responsible for so many deaths and so much suffering during and since the great war.

SOCIAL NEWS

DEAR DOLLY—We are two girls, 13 and 14 years of age. We want your advice to know how old we should be before we have our first fellows. Now, Dolly, do you think red hair is pretty?

GREY EYES
You will be old enough to have an occasional date after you have passed 18. I'm crazy about red hair if it doesn't look like cooked carrots.

DEAR DOLLY—In what states are married women allowed to teach? Do all states require a Normal graduate or equivalent? How much would it cost to go to normal college for one year if one is economically poor? Are teachers in demand in the West?

R. S. T.
I am not familiar with the teaching requirements in the different states, but if you will write to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in the state you would like to locate in, or to several states, I imagine you would get the information. The cost of a normal course exclusive of the tuition, depends upon the person who takes the course. Some can live cheaper than others and some are better managers or can get more for their money than others. Then too, if you have a complete wardrobe to start with, you can get by without buying any new clothes for a year or so. Why not ask some of your friends who have taken the course?

DEAR DOLLY—As you give such good advice I thought I would write to you.

Dolly, I am a young girl 18 years of age. I have kept company with several boys during the past year. I am now keeping company with a very nice fellow, whom I like better than any other boy I have ever kept company with before. He respects me in every manner, and is in every way very manly. He is well fixed financially, and comes from a respectable family.

Dolly, do you think he would make an ideal husband? Please answer soon for I am anxious to hear your answer.

OAK HILL GIRL
I cannot answer your question, since I do not pretend to foretell what will happen in the future. However, I see no reason why the man you have in mind would not make you an ideal husband, since he is well fixed, and comes from a good family. Judging from many letters I receive from unhappy wives, their chief trouble is due to the fact that their husbands do not give them enough money to live on comfortably, or as much as they were

Realize what Kellogg's Bran means to your family's health?

Eaten regularly each day, Kellogg's Bran will permanently relieve constipation; it will free you from dangerous toxic poisons that lead to 90% of all human illness; it will remove the cause and sweeten a bad breath; it will clear a pimply complexion through its work on the bowels. In fact, Kellogg's Bran, through its natural action as a bulk, indigestible agent, will tone-up the whole system!

If you know exactly what constipation means from a medical viewpoint you would lose no time eating Kellogg's Bran yourself and serving it daily to your family. And, Kellogg's Bran is adding greatly to the enjoyment of eating cereals. Eat at least two tablespoonfuls each day; in chronic cases, with each meal.

There are many attractive ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it in winter with hot milk as a cereal. Or, mix it with cereals before serving. Many housewives cook it with cereals, in each case adding two tablespoonfuls for each person. You will also enjoy the nutlike flavor of Kellogg's Bran when it has been sprinkled over hot or cold cereals.

You have missed some of the joys of life if you have not eaten raisin bread, muffins, griddle-cakes, etc., made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each box.

Don't delay your fight against constipation; don't lose a minute in the great battle against illness! You can buy Kellogg's Bran from all grocers and you can have it served in individual packages at first-class hotels, restaurants and clubs.

Mrs. Carl Blankeneyer will entertain the members of the K. K. K. Club at her home in the Grimes Apartments, Second and Gay streets, instead of Mrs. Robert Townsend, as previously announced.

Mrs. C. A. Winchell will entertain the members of the Philaetha Class of the First Baptist church tomorrow evening at her home, 1220 Ninth street. The assistant hostesses will be Misses Lulu Jones, Martha Lovejoy, Ora Horton, Minnie Tipton, Mrs. H. Stewart Tills, Mrs. Mary Fullen and Mrs. Louise Phillips.

Mrs. W. L. Cressy of Third street is visiting relatives in Oak Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maurer of Clay street entertained at dinner last evening for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Munn of Sherman, South Carolina. The appointments were very attractive and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Cline, Mrs. Harrison Price and grand-daughter, Mary Elizabeth Price, and Mr. and Mrs. John Maurer and family.

Elmer Maurer of Clay street is ill with an attack of the grip.

The following from Sunday's Huntington Herald Dispatch is of local interest as Mr. Coffman is connected with the Coffman Floral Shop on Gallia street:

"L. Harold Coffman, prominent florist of Fourth avenue, has just returned to Huntington from Detroit, bringing with him a bride, who was Miss Marjorie Porter of Indianapolis, Ind., prior to her marriage to Mr. Coffman in Detroit last Tuesday.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Mark Sanborn, pastor of the First Baptist church of Detroit. Mrs. Coffman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Porter, the former being a retired farmer from Dana, Ind. Mr. Coffman took his bride to a newly furnished apartment at 127 Sixth avenue."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Thompson, 1231 Kinney's Lane, was the scene of a delightful children's party Saturday afternoon. Between the hours of two and four o'clock when Mrs. Thompson entertained a number of little folks in honor of the ninth birthday anniversary of her attractive little daughter, Melba Miller.

The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion in pink and white, and the time was delightfully spent in various juvenile games and pastimes until four o'clock when they were invited into the dining-room, where a pink and white ice course was served. The table was artistically arranged with cut flowers and lighted papers and centered with a large white birthday cake mounted with nine pink candles. The favors were tiny pink baskets filled with candies and places were marked for the following children:

Mildred Turner, Mary Freytag, Martha Kaps, Dorothy Kaps, Freda and Beulah Darragh, Martha Wetta, Thelma Vickery, Helen Zuhars, Wilma Wakefield, Marie Arthur, Rosalie Robinson, Henrietta Staker, Roberta Grimes, Helen Grimes, Marion Grimes, Harold Vickery and Melba Miller.

The honor guest received many pretty gifts, including a beautiful bouquet of pink roses from her aunt, Mrs. R. L. Grimes of Jackson, Ohio.

Mrs. Thompson was assisted in entertaining the little guests by her sister, Mrs. Roy Turner.

The meeting of the Matron and Maid Club, scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Adolph Goodman, 521 Fourth street, has been postponed until Thursday afternoon. All members are asked to note the change.

Mrs. John Long and children, John Kennedy, Louis and Alfredda, of Union Avenue, have returned from Russell, Ky., where they went to attend the funeral of the former's niece, Miss Sallie Powell.

Mrs. Fred Essman of Sciotoville is seriously ill with the flu.

The Loyal Philaetha Class of the First Baptist church will meet at the home of Miss Hazel Arthurs, 1516 Waller street, tomorrow evening at seven o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bedell of Urbana, Ohio, who recently moved to this city, are now pleasantly located in the Richardson Apartments, Fourth and Offshore streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schuyler of Baird avenue had as dinner guests yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burkhardt and family of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Burkhardt and family of New Boston.

Local relatives have received word of the birth of a son, to Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hancock of Lima, Ohio. The little lad has been named "Robert Charles," after his two grand-fathers. Mr. Hancock is a former resident of this city but is now located in Baskerville, California. Mrs. Hancock and son will join him there on February 15th.

The Misses Grace and Gertrude Kirby of Robinson avenue had as week-end guest Miss Willard Judd of Ashland, Ky.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

A southeast Russian bride calls on all the villagers on her wedding eve and receives from each a small present. wool or linen, rolled about her is cut off and henceforth, when she appears in public, she must wear the platko or turban, of woolen linen, rolled about her head.

This is the distinction between the married and unmarried.

Of the many parties which filled Saturday's social calendar, none was more enjoyable than the children's party given by Mrs. C. H. Rowe at her home, 1225 Young street, complimenting her lovely young daughter, Helen Rowe, who was eleven years old Saturday. Interesting games and contests, instrumental and vocal music provided diversion during the early part of the afternoon and later a delicious refreshment course was served. Prizes in the contests were awarded to Gwendolyn Brown and Lillian Bond. The dining room was decorated with potted plants and cut flowers and the table was adorned with a large birthday cake mounted with eleven pink candles and covers were laid for Lillian Bond, Hazel Vallard, Margaret Foster, Thelma Elam, Opal Atkinson, Gladys Atkinson, Mary Byrne, Zelma Webb, Virginia Webb, Jean Mooney, Anna Mary Lowe, Bessie and Pearl Wilburn, Katherine and Helen Rowe, Lanasa McKintley, Gladys Meenach, Anna Southworth, Agnes Seagrs, Ruth Patterson and Virginia Purdew.

BASKETBALL QUIZ

TIME OUT
Is there a penalty if a captain asks for time out when the ball is in possession of the opposing side out of bounds?

Under such conditions time out should not be granted, and a foul may be called by the referee for delaying the game.

FORFEIT
If, with only 3 minutes to play, and one team leading 20 to 17, the other team refuses to continue play because of a decision on the part of the referee and leaves the floor, what is regarded as the final score.

In all forfeited games the final score shall be 2 to 0.

Time Limit
Is there any time limit that a player, after completing a dribble, may take before passing the ball or trying for a goal?

There is no limit. He can pass the ball or shoot for goal to suit his fancy. The action of the player with the ball is usually determined by the attitude of the opposition. If closely guarded the player with the ball usually passes it immediately after completing the dribble.

OUT-OF-BOUNDS
How long may a player hold the ball while out of bounds? Is there any penalty for going beyond the limit allowed by the rules?

A player who is putting the ball in play from out of bounds cannot hold the ball more than five seconds. If he does so the ball goes to an opponent at the same spot out of bounds.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

"Well, first of all," said Jack, "please tell me what that round place is, that you came out of." "Ho, ho, ho! Don't you know?" laughed the King. "Why that's an ice cream freezer and it's what we use for homes." Then Jack understood why the freezer had funny windows and a door.

"And," continued Jack, "they told me, in Snow Village, that Ice Cream cone trees grew in Frost Town. Could I see one of them?" "One of them," repeated the King. "Why, you can see a whole lot of them. I'll call some of my Freezies and they'll show you the way to the cone grove."

Jack locked arms with two of the Freezies and started down a snow path. A lot of other Freezies trailed along behind. Jack was very in the ice cream freezer, houses they passed on the way, and Flip barked every time they came to one. (Continued.)

Calls Up For Patrol; Accommodated; Fined

Five of the offenders picked by the police over the week end and named in Municipal court Monday afternoon, the others forfeited bonds by reason of their failure to appear for trial.

R. L. Callahan, 24, of 610 South street, was accommodated when he called up police headquarters at 2 a. m. this morning and requested that the patrol come and get him. The ride cost him $11.50 when he admitted guilt of intoxication.

G. C. Lookabaugh, 30, who came to grief Saturday night when he was locked up for drunkenness and possession of liquor, failed to appear and Judge McCall declared his $125 bond forfeited.

Fuller Stevens, Jess Green and Charles Zeck were assessed fines of $11.20 each for intoxication and L. Pierce was assessed a fine of $10 for drunkenness, half of which was suspended on condition that he pay the damage caused by him falling through a window at the Kelly grocery store on Front street.

Charles Smith, Clyde Meadows, Eli Kitchin, Harvey Redden, Carol Davis and Arthur Gibbs, all plain drunks, failed to appear and their bonds were declared forfeited.

Ben Wright, 28, arrested last night at Sixth and Chillicothe streets for totting a pair of steel knucks and possessing liquor, will be given a hearing Tuesday.

Benedict Crowell Pleads Not Guilty; Strenuous Denial To Conspiracy Charges

WASHINGTON, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Benedict Crowell, war-time assistant secretary of war, pleaded "not guilty" in the District of Columbia supreme court today in the indictment recently returned against him and six others here, charging conspiracy in connection with the construction of army camps.

In a public statement issued upon his appearance in court the former assistant secretary said he had been given no opportunity to present "the facts" in the case to the grand jury which indicted him, and that such a procedure by giving credence to a "false charge" had constituted a "violation of every American citizen's right."

Henry Stimson was secretary of war in the cabinet of President Woodrow Wilson. It was Stimson who appeared as counsel for Mr. Crowell and also issued a statement in which he declared the charges brought against his client were "preposterous."

It would be a very proper statement, Mr. Stimson added, "if the war work of men like Mr. Crowell, were rewarded by suspicion and disfavor."

Mr. Crowell in presenting his plea reserved the right to withdraw it within thirty days and substitute for it a motion to quash the indictment. His statement follows:

"I am charged in this indictment with having joined a gigantic conspiracy to control and parcel out for corrupt personal profit, the entire building program of the war department during the late war. The government's charge is that I was engaged in such a plot to make money out of my position, at the expense of the nation and that by so doing I obstructed the proper conduct of the war—even as the indictment says, to the producing of the sickness and death of soldiers."

"The facts are that I never profited one cent by the trust imposed in me by the country. No such conspiracy did or could have existed."

"The specification in the indictment against me is that a contract was awarded the Cleveland Construction Company in May, 1918, and that at that time the stock of the Cleveland was in the profits of which I was interested."

"This charge is absolutely false. Furthermore, evidence of its falsity is on record. Until I learned through the public press of the filing of this indictment, I had received no intimation any such charge was under consideration. It was not due to me personally, but it was due to the office which I had held and to the good name of the country to advise me of this charge and listen to the facts."

"The personal wrong to me is comparatively unimportant but the wrong done to the country is detaching from the great national achievement of 1918 is unimportant and to publish to the world the false charge that the United States in that critical year placed the direction of the supply of its army in the hands of a traitor and a 'cheat' is a wrong done to every citizen."

Son Of Wealthy Farmer Is Held For Murder

WILMINGTON, OHIO, January 22.—Sheriff Kirk, of Clinton county today placed a charge of murder against Louis Vandervoort, 20, son of a wealthy Greene county farmer, in connection with the murder of Patrolman Emory McCreight, of the local police force, the night of February 14, 1922, following the alleged confession today of Walter Bingham, 20, a pal of Vandervoort in a number of store robberies here and in Washington, C. H., and Xenia.

Vandervoort was taken into custody Saturday following the robbery of a drug store at Washington, C. H., and regarding which, police say, he has made a full confession.

Police are also holding Archie Gelas and Frank Moorman, who are said to have confessed being implicated with Vandervoort in a number of robberies.

According to the statement made to police by Bingham, Vandervoort killed McCreight following a robbery here. Moorman, police said, also told them that Vandervoort shot and killed Patrolman Elmer Matthews, at Xenia last month after the officer had refused to surrender his gun to Vandervoort.

While confessing to the robberies, according to police, Vandervoort stoutly maintains his innocence of the murder of McCreight and Matthews. Sheriff Kirk said that Vandervoort would be arraigned on the murder charge late today.

Clarence Roy McKinnis is now serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for the murder of McCreight.

Fred Kimball, 40 years old, was the name given by a man taken into custody while wandering in the East End late Sunday night by the police and locked up for investigation. The man, who carried a bundle containing a suit of underwear and a towel under his arm, claimed Ironton as his home and told the officers that he came to Portsmouth to take a bath. He was locked up at the city prison but this afternoon was turned out on his promise to stay in Ironton the next time he wanted to take a bath.

EXCELSIOR IS WORKING OVERTIME
The Excelsior Shoe company is so busy at present that a large portion of the plant is being operated over time it was stated Monday. The firm has received several very large orders.

Men Had Narrow Escape When Auto Is Struck By Engine

Alfred Kretschmar, who suffered a broken right leg, R. C. Hamilton and R. Channeil, all of Lucasville and W. M. McConnell, Eleventh street, who were injured when Hamilton's new touring car was struck by an N. & W. yard engine at Eleventh street and the railroad Sunday night about 11:30 o'clock, had a narrow escape from being killed. The machine was carried on the pilot of the engine for 300 feet, the engine not being stopped until it was just south of Twelfth street.

Kretschmar is in Heustead hospital his leg being broken below the knee. Hamilton and Channeil left the hospital Sunday afternoon. McConnell, manager of the Lincoln theatre suffered minor bruises.

The three men from Lucasville called at McConnell's store to see about booking a vaudeville show. McConnell left his theatre, joined them at the store and then they decided to drive up to the theatre less than a square away. Hamilton, the owner of the machine was driving. Channeil was on the right side of the back seat and McConnell on the left. Kretschmar was on the right side of the front seat. The engine No. 844 used in switching cars from the late passenger trains was headed north from the depot and when Hamilton strated across the track he failed to see it approaching. McConnell saw the engine and yelled for more speed but the machine was in the middle of the track when the engine caught it. Channeil was thrown out onto the pilot of the engine and rode there until it stopped. McConnell was knocked to the floor of the machine while Kretschmar's leg was caught against the gear shift and brakes. Three of the badly wrecked machine while Channeil was taken from the pilot of the engine.

Channeil suffered two severe scalp wounds on the right side of his head. Hamilton escaped with bruised legs and thighs.

Hamilton owns amusement places in Lucasville and Picketon. Hamilton and Kretschmar work for the N. & W. while Channeil is manager of Hamilton's amusement places.

Many Fall Into Hands Of Police

The blotter at police headquarters Monday contained the names of fifteen persons who fell into the hands of the police over the week-end. The bulk of the offenders were registered as plain drunks and among the others is Alberta Pannatoni, 27, who was locked up for investigation when found in the home of a colored man at 1124 Eleventh street last night by Capt. Startzman and Patrolman Miller. The prisoner is the wife of Luke Pannatoni, Italian, who is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for the Hubman murder in this city several years ago.

The complete list of offenders includes Eli Kitchen, Jess Green, Harvey Redden, Carol Davis, B. L. Callahan, Fuller Stevens, Arthur Gibbs.

Court House

Pays Up, Released

A. L. Gable, 21, of Springfield, Meadows and L. Pierce, plain drunks; Ben Wright, carrying concealed weapon and possessing liquor; G. C. Lookabaugh, drunk and possessing liquor and Fred Kimball for investigation. When taken into custody in the East End last night Kimball told Officer Tompkins he came here from Ironton to take a bath. He was locked up for investigation.

Riley Under Arrest

Ernest Riley, 21, was taken into custody at First Brick and brought to the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Carl Schneider, Monday, on a warrant issued from Probate court charging nonsupport of his minor child. The complaint was made by the wife of the accused, Bertha Riley of Mill street.

Jail Sentence Suspended

Reuben Freeland was adjudged guilty of contempt of court by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Monday and he was sentenced to ten days in jail but the sentence was suspended so long as he shall pay his wife, Stella Freeland, the sum of $24 a month for the support of their minor children. The couple have been separated for some time.

Serving Witnesses

Attorney Harry W. Miller left Sunday for Washington, D. C., to appear in the trial of a case before the District court there. He will be absent several days.

Bierley-Davis Case Being Heard

The suit of The Bierley Realty company against S. L. Johnson came to trial before Judge Thomas and a jury in Common Pleas court Monday morning.

The Realty company sued to recover the sum of $100.50 claimed to be due as a commission on the sale last October of the defendant's real estate situated at 1546 Tenth street. Evidence adduced by plaintiff showed that after they had found a buyer for the premises in question Johnson refused to go through with the deal and sold the property to another party in violation of his contract.

The defendant admitted that he listed the property with the Realty company for sale in June for a period of thirty days and testified that two weeks after the expiration of that cancelled the contract by telephone. His statement was emphatically denied. Attorney R. F. Kimble for the plaintiff and Attorney C. M. Searl for defendant in place of Attorney S. A. Skelton who was absent from the city.

GERMANY REFUSES TO PARTICIPATE

PARIS, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The German government has formally refused participation in the Franco-German arbitration tribunal because of the "present political circumstances."

Notice to this effect was served today as the hearing was about to open in a banking case handled by a Franco-American legal firm.

French To Continue Policy Of Moderation

PARIS, January 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Premier Poincaré today began his twice-a-day conferences with cabinet ministers and Marshal Foch. These frequent meetings are caused by the developments in the Ruhr situation. The ministers today heard a report by M. Guillaumet, the director of mines who returned from the Ruhr to bring the latest information.

The officials continue to express a hopeful view of the outcome of the French occupation despite increasing opposition. It was indicated they intend to continue their policy of moderation toward the German workmen, believing this course will eventually win over the industrial population and break down the passive resistance of the industrial leaders and the government.

According to the latest reports reaching the foreign office the telephone and telegraph system is functioning in the Ruhr but there was no information available on the strike in that region set for this morning.

BOYCOTT EVERYTHING FRENCH

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—(By A. P.)—German student fraternities are petitioning university heads to exclude Frenchmen, Belgians and Lithuanians. The "Theater Managers' Association" has passed a resolution to exclude French plays.

Market News

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Large accumulations of week end selling orders imparted a weak tone to prices at the opening of today's stock market, but most of the early losses were limited to fractions. Selling pressure was most effective against the minor oils and such speculative favorites as Baldwin and Studebaker. Reynolds Spring dropped two points. California Petroleum up a point, was one of the few early strong spots.

The downward trend continued as trading progressed, but the volume of sales was relatively small. Baldwin extended its loss to one point, while Pressed Steel Car preferred dropped two points and then recovered its loss. Loew's, a point each, were recorded by Pullman, U. S. Alcohol, American Ice, Woolworth, and Pan American while fractional declines were noted in Continental Can, Reading, St. Paul preferred, Pacific Oil, Allied Chemical and American Sugar. Stewart-Warner advanced two points on week end announcement of an increase of the dividend rate. Pond Creek Coal Association advanced a point, all registered gains of a point or more. Foreign exchanges opened easier and then steadied, demand sterling being quoted around $4.67, French francs 6.47 cents and German marks at 90.47 cent.

Except for bullish demonstrations in certain food shares, prices generally continued to sag in response to short selling and liquidation by recent buyers. Finding that the bidding up of new leaders failed to steady the list, traders began to offer stocks more freely around midday especially American, Studebaker, International Paper, and Woolworth. Call money opened at 4 per cent.

The closing was heavy.

The European situation became an important factor in the stock market today, prices declining over a good part of the list in response to the further depreciation of foreign bonds, several of which fell to low records, and lower foreign exchange rates. Short selling and profit taking was apparent in a number of the leading industrials, but the volume of stocks brought out was comparatively small. Sales were 650,000 shares.

WITH THE SICK

George Kuhl, who is seriously ill at Schirman hospital was reported better Monday. He is suffering from pneumonia, with which he was stricken last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, who have been ill with grip at their home on Second street, were reported better Monday.

BIRTHS

A son was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Baker of Ironton, who formerly resided in Portsmouth.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Elizabeth Reitz Hurth
With loved ones at her bedside, the call of the Master came like a restful sleep to Mrs. Elizabeth Reitz Hurth, beloved wife of Adolph Hurth, Sr., at her home, 821 Second street, at 7:45 this morning, death being due to pneumonia. She was taken ill a week ago with a severe cold and Saturday developed pneumonia. Relatives realized that her condition was serious from the start, for her health had not been of the best for about a year Sunday morning, when it was realized that the end was near. The last rites of the church were administered, but Sunday afternoon she brightened a little and remained that way until late last night, when there was another quick change for the worse.

Mrs. Hurth remained conscious until the last and recognized her children and grandchildren at her bedside. She passed away as if going to sleep, with a beautiful prayer on her lips. Many friends of this good woman did not know of her serious condition and were shocked today to learn that the final summons had arrived and removed from the city another resident.

Mrs. Hurth was born at Beaver, Hessen, Germany. Had she lived until July 21 this year, she would have attained the age of 82 years. The deceased came to America with her parents, John and Amelia Weiser, who settled in Portsmouth soon after their arrival in this country. Mrs. Hurth spent the remainder of her life in this city. She was united in marriage to Adolph Hurth March 28, 1894. Had she lived until March she would have celebrated her 50th wedding anniversary.

Seven children were born to bless this union, but only three remain, with the husband, to mourn the death of a kind and loving wife and mother. They are: Edward Hurth, at home; Adolph Hurth, of 821 Second street, and Louis Hurth, of Gallia and Sinton streets. She also leaves four grandchildren: Charles, Robert, Delbert and Allan Hurth and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Vollmer, of 1734 Seventh street, this city. J. Reitz, who passed away some months ago, was an only brother of Mrs. Hurth.

She was a life-long member of St. Mary's church, her wedding taking place at the old church on Third street. Mrs. Hurth was also the third charter member of the Married Ladies' Society of that church, organized in 1862.

Funeral services will be held from St. Mary's church Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, with Father T. A. Goebel in charge, assisted by Fathers F. Gloeckner of Ironton and C. Schneider of Pomeroy.

The body will be laid to rest in Greenlawn.

Mrs. M. L. Bruce

Mrs. M. L. Bruce who died at her home, St. Paul, Ky., January 17, was buried at St. Paul Saturday, January 20. She was 81 years of age and had lived at St. Paul 55 years. Death was caused by paralysis, she having suffered a stroke Saturday January 13. She has been a widow thirty-one years, her husband being the late Captain Alexander Bruce of Fullerton. Charles E. of Ashland, Miss Laura Bruce, of California, Mrs. Mary Mackay and Miss Alma Bruce of St. Paul, Ky.

John Staten

John Staten, a prominent lumber dealer of Huntington, passed away at his home in this city Saturday. He was well known here and his death followed a short illness.

Mrs. Malissa Wolcott

Death Sunday morning at 6:15 claimed Mrs. Malissa Wolcott, who passed away at the home of her niece, Mrs. Mary Sharp of 12 Sinton street. Death was due to infirmities, she being 88 years of age. In addition to Mrs. Sharp, another niece, Mrs. Minerva Lozier of Kinney and survives. The deceased was the widow of the late Thomas Wolcott, who for years was a well known citizen of Portsmouth. Funeral services will be conducted from the home of Mrs. Sharp at 2 p. m. Tuesday. The last rites will be in charge of Rev. Stewart Tillis and interment will be in Greenlawn.

William Jackson

Death about 7:30 o'clock Sunday night claimed William Jackson, the final summons coming at the home of his brother Newton Jackson, on Hales Creek, near South Webster. Mr. Jackson had been ailing for some time. Last August 25, he fell and suffered a broken hip and had been confined to his bed ever since, complications causing death.

The deceased was born at Hales Creek, a son of William and Elizabeth Jackson. Most of his life was spent in that part of the country. For about 15 years, he lived with relatives at East Portsmouth. During that time he was a familiar figure at the Jackson and Vencor grocery, Gallia and Norfolk streets. He made many friends there who will be sorry to learn of his death. He returned to Hales Creek three years ago last September to make his home with his brother Newton Jackson.

Mr. Jackson was 65 years of age June 17 last. He had been blind for about twenty years. He lost his eyesight when he fell on a box from which nails were protruding. Despite this affliction he was always genial and ready to discuss the topics of the day.

Surviving are two brothers Newton of Hales Creek and Edward of Marietta, two half-brothers, A. J. Jackson, of Columbus and Rev. O. T. Jackson of Bridgeport, W. Va., and one sister, Mrs. Ella J. Loomis, Seattle, Wash. Dr. E. C. Jackson of this city is a cousin of the deceased.

Funeral services will be held at Hales Creek Wednesday at one o'clock with burial at South Webster.

Charles Crawford

After an illness of complications from which he had suffered since September, death Sunday evening about 7:30 o'clock claimed Charles Crawford, the final summons coming at the home of his parents, S. W. and Sarah Crawford, Swauger Valley, back of Sciotoville.

The deceased was born at Crown City, Gallia county, O. He was 53 years of age July 4th, last. Most of his life was spent in Gallia and Scioto counties, he having made his home in this country for about thirty-one years. Until two years ago he was a farmer near Sciotoville. At that time he moved his family to Springfield, where he followed the work of a teamster. Last September he moved back to his father's home.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Emma Neff Crawford and ten children: Mrs. Leona M. Richmond, Mrs. Blanche Fern Scott, Springfield, O.; K. G. Crawford, Sciotoville; Mrs. Alta Ake, Indiana; John Robert Crawford, Mrs. Beulah L. Snyder, and Mrs. Bertha Lyons, Springfield, O.; Elvora, Berwick and Eugene Crawford at home. The parents, two brothers, John Crawford of Springfield, addition, Sciotoville, Lloyd Crawford of Portsmouth, and a sister, Mrs. Nellie Allard of Portsmouth also survive.

Funeral services will be held from the S. W. Crawford home at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with burial in Wheelersburg cemetery.

Mrs. Malissa Williams

Death Sunday claimed Mrs. Malissa Williams, widow of the late Harrison Williams, who passed away seven years ago. She had been seriously ill for several weeks and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Brannan, of Nauvoo.

Mrs. Williams, who was past 70 years of age is survived by the following children: Mrs. Mandy Adams-James, Marcus E. and Life Williams, who are located in Kentucky and Mrs. Erline Caudill and Mrs. Mollie Brannan of Nauvoo.

The deceased was kind and charitable and will be missed. Her body will be shipped to Kentucky for burial.

Mrs. Susan McFarland

Word was received yesterday by local relatives that Mrs. Susan McFarland had passed away yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Lafferty at Grayson, Ky. Death was caused by a stroke of paralysis suffered on Christmas day.

Mrs. McFarland was born near Peebles, Adams county, July 19, 1830, being in her 93rd year when death came. She was the widow of the late Joseph McFarland of Home, Adams county. He died about sixteen years ago.

Of twelve children born to this union, eight survive. They are Mrs. Catherine Moore, Fawcett, O.; Mrs. Nan Forsyth, Cincinnati; Mrs. Hannah Hammond, Portsmouth; Mrs. Mollie Lafferty, Grayson, Ky.; Mrs. Dora Robinson, Portsmouth; George and William of Peebles, and Joseph L. of Lebanon, O.

Mrs. McFarland made her home with Mrs. Robinson, 7

HAMDEN

(W. E. Stanton, Correspondent)
HAMDEN, O., January 22.—Baltimore & Ohio, west bound passenger train No. 11, due here at 9:47 p. m. enroute from New York to Cincinnati, resumed operation Saturday night, January 20th, and east bound Cincinnati to New York passenger train No. 22, due here at 11:33 a. m., resumed operation, Sunday, January 21st. These two trains are the last to be put back on. They were taken off during the strike a few months ago. The new fire bell that arrived here several weeks ago, was put in service this week and now hangs near the Hamden light plant where a steel was erected for the fire wagon.

B. & O. Operator O. S. Ray, who has been ill, has recovered, and is back on second track at Dundas. After a brief visit with relatives and friends at South Webster, Mrs. W. A. Kibby returned to her home here Thursday morning.

GREENUP

(Leroy Smith, Correspondent)
GREENUP, KY., January 22.—A special session of the fiscal court was held January 16th. The county attorney was ordered to investigate the matter of two miles of road from Chinnville to Russell and take up the same with State Engineer Dossy.

County Attorney Gleason E. Miller and A. M. Hamilton were appointed as a committee to draw up plans and specifications and get the cost of building an addition to the court house and the building of a sanitary toilet.

County Court
Lawson Pendleton and Kenneth Campbell, youths of South Portsmouth, were sentenced by Judge L. E. Nickolls to the reformatory at Greendale, for a term of five years. They were charged with cutting signal wires on the C. & O. Railway. The judge took pity on the lads and their parents, and suspended the sentence upon good behavior.

Henry Keene was fined $10 and cost on the charge of drunkenness.

(On motion of Mrs. Grace Sowards.)

James R. Sowards and A. V. Pollock were appointed administrators of the estate of Dr. John L. Sowards. Bond was placed at $2,000.

Miss Harriet Debarth, of Cincinnati, is home to look after her sister, Mrs. Eunice Taylor, who continues to be very ill with influenza.

Mrs. T. W. Kendall is visiting her brother, Thomas Dempsey, of Dayton, Ky.

The city board of equalization met Thursday evening in the city building and heard complaints registered for increasing the valuation. The board upheld the increase in many instances. It is composed of S. F. Greenleaf, Burg Kinser and P. G. Hannah.

Friends and relatives have removed Harrison Blanton from Grayson to the home of his father-in-law, Dr. C. Fannin, in Elliott county. Before his removal was obtained he gave bond in the sum of $10,000.

Blanton shot and killed Paul Heron on the main street of Grayson on December 19th, less than an hour after the latter was acquitted of the killing of the former's father. Since the young man has been in a state of coma and had to be removed on a cot.

At Grayson the flu epidemic has reached a very serious stage. Entire families are down and the doctors are exhausted from work. All schools are closed. The local board of health closed all the church services except funerals and they must be brief. The postoffice is closed while mail is being opened. The congregation of leaders elsewhere is forbidden. While the disease is not accompanied by fatalities of previous years, it seems to attack more people.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS

Pharmacists Call It "Joint Ease." Because It's For Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pinpricked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds' rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

All druggists dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

landed by picking up "foose" balls, and catering for touchdowns.

Ability to follow the ball and recover fumbles enabled Princeton to be rated the leading eleven in the east.

In the game with Chicago, Gray of Princeton recovered a fumble and ran 45 yards for a touchdown. Princeton won that game by a margin of three points.

In the Harvard game, Baker recovered a fumble and in a few plays Princeton went over for a touchdown. That score was the margin of victory.

In the game between Northwestern and Minnesota, the former team, rated much the weaker, eleven, obtained a tie when Palmer of Northwestern grabbed a fumble and recd. the length of the field for a touchdown.

Fumbles are the lane of every football coach. Like a base on balls in baseball, fumbles invariably prove costly.

O'Connell Dunn's Hope

CHARLEY O'CONNELL

CHARLEY O'CONNELL is Jimmy Dunn's lightweight hope for championship honors.

Jimmy Dunn of Cleveland, who has developed more good boys than any other boxing manager in the country, has a desire to turn out a champion in every class before he gives up the fistie game.

Dunn is the man who made Johnny Kilbuck, featherweight champion, a title he still holds.

If ever a fighter knocked out an opponent, Bryan Downey did that very thing to Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion. Downey honestly won a title, but never was nationally recognized as the premier middleweight.

Dunn is confident either Carl Tremblay or Al Corbett can beat Joe Lynch, heavyweight champion. He also has high hopes for O'Connell, a lightweight aspirant.

Dunn's desire to turn out a champion for every class is not without the realms of possibility.

FIRST WOMAN HANDICAPPER BY NEA Service.

*NEW YORK, January 22.—In accordance with the new plan to let women, as far as possible, control women's athletics, Mrs. Jessie L. Patton has the distinction of being the first woman handicapper to be chosen for women's track and field events by the Amateur Athletic Union.

CRAWFORD GETS APPOINTMENT

BRONX, Jan. 22.—Romulus "Rom" Crawford, well known local high school student, has been appointed to the military academy at West Point and will take his examination within the near future.

Crawford is a member of this year's graduating class and served with the Citizens' Training Corps at Camp Knox, Ky., last summer.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

At the recent meeting of the football coaches in New York, Earle Neale, who last season was in charge of the Washington and Jefferson squad, offered a unique suggestion.

Neale was in favor of a change relating to fumbles and intercepted forward passes. His idea was that no gains should be allowed on fumbled ball or intercepted forward pass. The ball should merely go to the team recovering at the spot where fumbled.

It is an easy matter to judge what some of the coaches thought of Neale's suggestion, prominent among them being Bill Roper of Princeton.

The Princeton team of last year profited more through fumbles than perhaps any other eleven in the country. Coach Roper's theory of keeping your eye on the ball brought results.

While Neale's suggestion is interesting and would eliminate many fluke touchdowns, yet it is a question if it isn't the uncertainty of the sport that helps make football so popular. Neale's motion was voted down. A majority of the coaches seemed willing to take the chance of profiting by recovering a fumble or intercepting a pass.

Many games have been won or lost through the medium of a fumbled ball. And oftentimes it's the inferior team that turns the trick, and emerges from a game victorious against a far better eleven.

For fumbling can do more to spill the dope and offset the tireless efforts of a team's coaching staff than can any other factor that may crop out during the course of hostilities.

Not only does the failure of a player to "hang on" to the ball often give the foe a rather unearned tally but on many occasions places it in an exceptional scoring position. It also works as a detriment to the team as a whole in that fumbling will disrupt an aggregation and throw it off its stride quicker than anything else.

In other words the psychological effect is apparent. The confidence of the players in each other is shaken, and teamwork becomes demoralized.

Back in 1911, Sam White of Princeton won an everlasting place in the Cliffs hall of fame when he beat both Harvard and Yale predictably slugs.

Coué's Theory Far From New In World of Sport

Dr. Coué's theory of autosuggestion is far from being new in the world of sport.

The slogan of the Princeton football team of last year was, "Think nothing but victory; then execute it." That is just what the Tigers did.

"Fight, fight, fight," has for years been the watchword of most college teams in all branches of sport.

However, to the late Mike Murphy, most famous of all college trainers, must be given the credit of first introducing the theories of Dr. Coué into sport.

"A team that won't be licked, can't be licked."

That was the precept that he kept constantly in the minds of the athletes who were under his direction. The team enjoyed by Mike Murphy and the great success of his teams, makes it seem as if there was much in the theory of autosuggestion.

Bullseyes Of Baseball

BY BILLY EVANS

The Greatest Pitching I Ever Saw

To Walter Johnson goes the credit of pitching the three greatest consecutive games I ever saw a major league pitcher turn in.

Johnson performed his three remarkable pitching feats 4, 5, 7, 1908, against the New York Americans in that city.

All that Johnson did was shut out the Yankees, then known as the Highlanders, in three straight games. The peculiar part of the feat was the more Johnson pitched the better he got.

In those days the single umpire system was in use in the major leagues. It was my very great privilege to be entirely in charge of those three games, which I believe stand unequalled from a pitching point of view.

In the old days of the single umpire system, the arbitrators always welcomed pitchers' battles. Since it is necessary for an umpire to cover every play with the single system in vogue, close games in which the pitchers were masters of the situation, always made the work much easier.

While those three games in which Johnson shut out New York on consecutive days were remarkable pitching feats, they were soft picking from the angle of the umpire.

The reason—New York was helpless before Johnson, while Washington would early assume a lead that would make the game secure with Johnson going at top speed. I didn't have to do much running around the bases in those three games, as mighty few players got on.

The first game was played on Friday, Sept. 4, 1908, Washington winning 3 to 0, Johnson allowing the losers only six hits.

The second game was played Saturday, Sept. 5, 1908, Washington defeating New York 6 to 0, Johnson allowed four hits.

In those days Sunday ball was not permitted in New York, both teams enjoying a day of rest. Monday was Labor Day, two games being scheduled. In Monday's papers, Joe Canillon, the Washington manager, announced that if Johnson shut out New York in the third game he would send Walter right back for the fourth consecutive time.

New York used the great Jack Chesbro against Johnson to break the shut-out epidemic. Johnson turned in the best game of the three, winning 4 to 0, New York making only two measly hits.

In the late innings of the game,

FANS HAPPY OVER WILCE'S DECISION

COLUMBUS, OHIO, January 22.—Students, alumni and other well wishers are rejoicing in the announcement by Dr. John W. Wilce, famous football mentor that he will continue at Ohio State University despite the urge of a call from Wisconsin, where he was a star athlete a little over a decade ago.

Faith in the future of Ohio as a state was a determining factor in his decision, Dr. Wilce revealed in his declaration of intention, in which he said: "I believe thoroughly in the future of Ohio, Columbus and Ohio State University," and profess the further belief that "the people of all parts of Ohio will increasingly appreciate that Ohio State University is their institution, the result of their co-operation, their educational success, and their successes and their failures are their failures."

Another reason for his refusal to be lured away to another field, Dr. Wilce declared is his belief that "the value of physical education and football in Ohio have just been touched, that through state-wide interest in education, partly rallied by interest in Ohio State football, general educational results of enormous value for Ohio youth can be attained" and "that the present hearty spirit of support appreciates this fact, going beyond mere score victory."

SACHS TO STAGE FISTIC TOURNAMENT

ARE you fistically inclined? Have you ever cherished the thought of winning a ring title? If so, here is your big chance as arranged by a Cleveland boxing promoter, Jerry Sachs, by name.

Sachs has just finished a quest for heavyweight timber—fighters anxious to emulate the deeds of Jack Dempsey. It was highly successful, although Dempsey need not worry over the material uncovered.

Now Sachs plans something entirely new—a novice tournament. It is for ambitious fighters who have never appeared in the ring before.

If you weigh anywhere from 100 to 250, get busy and write to Sachs of your ambitions in life—a burning desire to become a famous fighter, own two or three automobiles and spend your money in a Jack Dempsey. The tournament is scheduled for Jan. 26.

We almost forgot. Jerry Sachs' address is 55th and Lexington avenue, Cleveland.

He formerly played ball in Portsmouth.

FANS LIKE TO SEE BATTERS HIT 'EM

STATISTICS show that 61 shut-out victories were pitched in the American Association during the 1922 season. In commenting on this comparatively small number President Hickey hints at the advantage of batters over pitchers in this day of the lively baseball.

It is an advantage, also, that should be continued. The baseball fan, since he has had a taste of more hitting, is losing his desire to sit through nine innings of warfare between two pitchers who are permitting very few hits and still fewer runs. The day of great delight in rare pitching feats has passed. One will enjoy an occasional test of phenomenal slab form, but as a daily diet, the men who pay the freight at the gate would rather see a red hot contest in which more runs and scores and more hitting may be enjoyed.

P. H. S. AND SCIOVILLE CAGERS WILL CLASH TUESDAY NIGHT

Game To Be Played In High School Gym

Tomorrow night the P. H. S. gym is expected to be packed to the doors and windows with Portsmouth and Sciotoville hi school students who will be on hand to cheer for their respective quintets, for it is the date of the annual clash between the P. H. S. regulars and Sciotoville court stars. This contest always brings out a bumper crowd.

Couch Wagner of the P. H. S. five will send his regulars into the battle against the quintet Coach Selby of Sciotoville will trot onto the floor. Sciotoville has a fast traveling squad this season and has been putting up a fine brand of basketball against some teams representing larger schools.

Kinker and Haugard, who perform at the forward positions, will have to be watched closely by the local guards for they are as slippery as eels and accurate on shooting the sphere through the iron hoop. Back and C. Flowers, local guards, will be sent in to hold them down. Phillips, the local center, will have Williams as his opponent. Williams is not as high in the air as Phillips, but he is a good jumper and Phillips will have to watch his step if he is to keep Williams from making his usual run of points. Ellsesser and Monk will start at forward for P. H. S., with Cross and Waddell as the Sciotoville guards who will be expected to hold them in check.

The game is to begin at eight o'clock and the regular quarter of a dollar admission will be collected at the door.

Majors Again Monkeying With Draft

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(United Press)—Major league club owners may be taking a dangerous step in putting into force a plan by which no players will be sent to non-draft leagues unless they become subject to the draft.

In substance this means, for instance, that the New York Yankees, in dealing with the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League for a star player, would offer $100,000 cash and four players valued at $20,000.

One of the four players transferred might develop into another Kamm or O'Connell, but by the terms of the deal, he would be subject to the draft and he would have to be passed on to the majors at the draft price.

This is a mild form of what "Squire" Elbert, the Brooklyn philanthropist, meant when he suggested "retaliation" two years ago as a means of breaking the draft deadlock.

Instead of breaking the determination of the non-draft leagues to go their way independently, the major leagues in the drastic measures may cause the three big Class A leagues to withdraw entirely from their agreement with the majors.

The Pacific Coast League does not need much more persuasion to cut loose from the majors and operate independently as a major league club on the Pacific coast. Such intentions were suggested by the far western club owners at the last meeting of the minors in Louisville.

While the American Association and the International League are not in the same position to become independent, the Pacific Coast League is in good shape to go its way alone.

Practically all of the valuable players are now being developed on the western coast, and if the Pacific Coast magnates decided to keep them all, they could start a real major league with patronage that would enable them to pay big league salaries.

Dempsey To Defend Title This Year

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(United Press)—Jack Dempsey beyond all doubt will fight someone, sometime, this year. The heavyweight champion may not be in need of color, as he has been doing stage work at a fat weekly stipend, but it is a clinch he does need work if he is to retain his fame.

Had he not been tied up with a vaudeville contract, it is probable that Dempsey would have engaged in some kind of an engagement last year. He tried to worm out of the stage work, but when a law suit was threatened he went through with it and it took until Christmas to finish it.

Finding opponents for a heavyweight championship bout is not as difficult as finding the money to pay the champ for his end. Jack Kamm has an idea that Dempsey as one of the end of any kind of a bout is worth at least $100,000. He may be right, but the promoters can't find a place big enough for that kind of an indoor show.

If Dempsey wants to fight this year, he probably can't have his pick of Harry Wills, Luis Firpo, Tommy Gibbons, Georges Carpentier, Joe Beckett or Floyd Johnson.

Wills probably will be sidetracked, as most of the promoters big enough to pull off such a show are afraid of the color issue that would be sure to be drawn into it.

Firpo is being built up by Tex Rickard for a crack at the title and if the South American giant continues to show an improvement, the bout may be staged in South America, where Firpo is a national idol.

Top prizes of $75 were charged for the bout sometime ago between Firpo and Jim Tracy, the worn out former Australian champion, and if the South Americans are that keen about boxing they would pay more to see their hero take a crack at the champion.

Despite the fact that Tommy Gibbons is one of the best heavyweights in the class, the St. Paul boy has been unable to get a bout with Dempsey.

Gibbons did not bother Dempsey with challenges until he felt that he had developed to the point where he would give the champion a good fight.

Several challenges to Dempsey brought no response and several offers made by promoters were also unanswered.

Gibbons, of course, is somewhat smaller than Dempsey, but size is no great factor in the heavyweight class, as Dempsey proved against Willard. If any of the contenders for the title has a real chance to beat Dempsey, it is Gibbons. He is fast on his feet, he can box, he has had experience and he can hit with either hand. He is a great fighter and he is as good at close quarters as Dempsey.

Gibbons wants a fight with Dempsey next summer and he ought to get it. He is popular around New York and there is no doubt that it would be a good card for any promoter.
